Offering four bedrooms, one of which is currently arranged as a home office, alongside extensive additional living accommodation, the property provides exceptional versatility for families, guests or those working from home. Fully registered with a tourist licence, it also represents an outstanding investment opportunity, benefiting from strong year round rental demand. Originally constructed in 1996, the villa has been carefully maintained and upgraded to provide modern comfort throughout.

The upper floor forms the principal living area, featuring a bright and spacious open plan lounge and dining room with exposed timber beams and a feature fireplace, creating a warm and welcoming atmosphere. Large windows flood the space with natural light while enjoying pleasant views across the surrounding area.

The modern fitted kitchen offers generous worktop space and storage, making it equally suited to everyday family life and entertaining.

The principal bedroom is complemented by an adjoining dedicated gym. Previously configured as a sauna, this versatile space could easily be adapted to suit a variety of lifestyles, whether as a wellness room, fitness studio or private retreat.

The lower floor further enhances the property's appeal, offering a cinema style lounge, music room with piano, guest accommodation and a home office. These adaptable spaces provide exceptional flexibility and could easily be utilised as additional bedrooms, hobby rooms, studio space or further reception areas, making the villa ideal for larger families or buyers seeking accommodation that can evolve with their needs.

Outdoor Living Designed for Entertaining

The outdoor areas have been designed to make the very best of the Costa Blanca lifestyle.

At the heart of the garden is a heated private swimming pool, complemented by a jacuzzi, spacious sun terraces and a variety of seating areas for relaxing throughout the day.

An impressive outdoor kitchen, complete with a traditional wood fired pizza oven and barbecue, provides the perfect setting for entertaining family and friends long into the evening.

The landscaped gardens are designed for low maintenance while offering an excellent degree of privacy.

A spacious rooftop solarium provides another inviting space to enjoy the sunshine while taking in views across the surrounding neighbourhood.
