Trassilico is a small mountain village at 750 msl, situated in the Apuan mountains in Tuscany only 10 kilometres from Galliciano. The cobbled streets and terracotta roofs are only some of the features of this lovely quiet village which has been lived in since Roman times and although all the major services are in Galliciano, Trassilico still has a B&B/retreat that also works as a restaurant. Points of interest in Trassilico are the Rocca (the fortress) which dates from the year 740, the mountain views and several churches.

Galliciano is a lively village with all the main services such as banks, school, doctor, chemist, sports facilities and a weekly open market. Lucca is only 47 km or 1hr away by car and offers restaurants, museums, and other interesting attractions such as taking a bike ride on the Roman walls which surround the city.
