New build for sale in Costa Calida

Even the flat roofs offer captivating views, regardless of which direction you gaze. To combine functionality and aesthetics, indigenous plants have been thoughtfully placed on the rooftops, creating an additional natural space. Aside from their visual appeal and aromatic qualities, these plants act as natural repellents against pests like wasps and mosquitos, further enhancing your comfort.

The designers have paid meticulous attention to optimizing available space, following modern northern European standards. The L-shaped building design ensures a practical distribution of square meters while maximizing privacy from neighbors. We utilize the innovative SISMO building system, guaranteeing high energy efficiency, superior acoustic and thermal insulation, and eliminating common issues associated with traditional construction methods, such as cracks and humidity.

The interior spaces have been thoughtfully designed with seamless and comfortable flows between rooms, offering spacious areas and ample wardrobe space. Inside and out, no detail has been overlooked in our pursuit of creating a home that prioritizes comfort, privacy, and efficiency.

Our vision is to provide more than just a new house or a new place; we strive to create a home that fosters a positive and healthy way of life. They are nestled within expansive natural areas and a private community, offering large communal green spaces, yoga and meditation areas, and a variety of sporting activities to support your active lifestyle.
