ABOUT UGLJAN

Ugljan is the largest place on the island with a long tourist tradition. Extremely developed coast more than 20 km long with numerous smaller and larger bays of crystal clear sea and untouched nature is suitable for swimming, diving and boat trips. A special feature are many bike and hiking trails that stretch not only through place of Ugljan but also connect other places throughout the island and discover the charms of untouched nature, greenery and blue of this beautiful island. The town of Ugljan itself and its nine hamlets (Čeprljanda, Lučino selo, Batalaža, Sušica, Gornje selo, Muline, Guduće, Fortoština, Varoš) is located in the northwestern part of the island in several gentle bays, the most beautiful of which are Ćinta, Mostir and Luka. in Muline. The traditional, idyllic way of life is related to the sea, agriculture and fishing, which, among other activities of recent times, have remained on the island to this day. In addition to beautiful sandy and rocky beaches, Ugljan also offers a rich gastronomic offer in several local taverns and restaurants.
