Description:

Capital investment - speculative property, in a beautiful location in Berg near Dietramszell

The plot on offer is located in Berg, a part of the Upper Bavarian municipality of Dietramszell in the district of Bad Tölz-Wolfratshausen.

Several plots are already parceled out directly next to the property. The plot is currently designated as grassland. However, the municipality is generally interested in developing more building land in the future.

Due to these circumstances, the plot could be acquired as a speculative plot, as a future rezoning for residential purposes is conceivable. The beautiful location with mountain views makes it attractive for potential investors looking for a long-term capital investment with value appreciation.
