The warehouse has an open-plan floor of 225 m² and a mezzanine of 75 m² fitted out as an office, distributed in three offices, a reception area, an archive and a bathroom. The whole complex has been designed to offer functionality and comfort, both for logistical and administrative uses.

Built in concrete (Prainsa), without sheet metal elements on either ceilings or walls, this pavilion guarantees robustness, durability and optimal insulation. The Ibarzaharra industrial estate has access by means of an automatic door and a video surveillance system around its perimeter, which provides a safe and controlled environment for its business activity.
