Ladeira do Vau is a Portuguese town located in the municipality of Portimão, district of Faro, in the Algarve.

Although it does not have a specific history highlighted as a village, it is part of a region rich in historical and cultural heritage.

The human presence in the Portimão area dates back to Prehistory, with traces of Neanderthal man and Roman and Arab occupation. The city of Portimão itself has developed over the centuries, with emphasis on the medieval period, when it was elevated to a town in 1453 and, later, to a city in 1924.

Ladeira do Vau, as part of the municipality of Portimão, benefits from this historical and cultural heritage, being a residential area close to beaches and areas of tourist interest, such as Praia do Vau, which offers a natural and quiet landscape, ideal for families.

Portimão is one of the most popular tourist destinations in the Algarve, southern Portugal. Here's a comprehensive overview of Portimão, covering several aspects:

Portimão is located in the Algarve region, on the southern coast of Portugal. It is the second largest municipality in the Algarve in terms of area and population.

It is bordered to the north by the municipality of Monchique, to the east by Silves and to the west by Lagos.

The geography is marked by golden sand beaches, rugged cliffs and an inland landscape characterized by hills and valleys.

Portimão boasts some of the most stunning beaches in the Algarve, including the famous Praia da Rocha, known for its extensive stretch of sand and impressive rock formations. - REF: FF001 LV
