ABOUT THE AREA

Rattendorf is a charming, traditional Austrian village nestled in the upper Gailtal (Gail Valley) in the southern state of Carinthia (Kärnten). Situated at an elevation of approximately 600 meters above sea level, it forms part of the large administrative municipality of Hermagor-Pressegger See. The village's idyllic setting, surrounded by the towering peaks of the Carnic Alps, makes it a popular destination for visitors seeking both tranquility and outdoor adventure. Rattendorf itself is a classic Haufendorf (a cluster village), with its roots tracing back to antiquity, evidenced by nearby historical features like the ancient Hadnmauer wall. The parish church, rebuilt in the 16th century in the Late Gothic style, serves as a central historical landmark.

The primary fame and appeal of Rattendorf today stem from its extremely close proximity to one of Austria's premier ski resorts: Nassfeld – Hermagor. Rattendorf is located just 2.6 kilometres from the Millennium Express gondola station in the nearby village of Tröpolach, which serves as the main gateway to the Nassfeld ski area. This resort boasts over 110 kilometres of slopes, ample sunshine, and modern lifts, establishing it as a Top 10 ski destination in Austria. In winter, Rattendorf acts as a quiet base for skiers, while in summer, the location transforms into a hub for outdoor activities.

During the warmer months, the region—known as the Nassfeld-Presegger See area—offers a vast network of opportunities for hiking, mountain biking, trail running, and water sports. Visitors can explore the magnificent geological formations of the Carnic Alps or enjoy the nearby waters of Lake Presegger See, which is renowned for having some of the warmest bathing temperatures in Carinthia. The region strongly promotes its 'World of Mountains & Lakes' concept, attracting families and active holidaymakers. Rattendorf's position makes it ideal for guests who desire easy access to these facilities while enjoying the peace and authentic atmosphere of a small, traditional Austrian village.

For international travellers, the village's location in the far south of Austria means there are several options for air travel. The nearest airport to Rattendorf is Klagenfurt Airport (KLU), located in the state capital of Carinthia, approximately 82 to 95 kilometres away by road. Alternatively, due to the region's proximity to the border, the Ljubljana Jože Pučnik Airport (LJU) in Slovenia is also a feasible international gateway. Klagenfurt offers the most direct connections within Austria and often has dedicated shuttle services connecting to the Nassfeld region during the peak seasons.
