MONCARAPACHO

Moncarapacho, a typical village of the Algarves Barrocal, is situated among soft hills where fig trees, almond and pomegranate trees are plentiful. Moncarapacho offers many amenities yet enjoys a friendly small town character. There is plenty to do with the very active Casa do Povo (the village association) which offers different courses for residents ranging from Yoga, to painting to Portuguese lessons. From Moncarapacho, it is a short distance to the top of the 411 metre Cerro de São Miguel which is the highest point of the Eastern Algarve and offers one of the most beautiful panoramic views in the whole area. The coastal town of Fuzeta, with its stunning blue flag beach and sea front restaurants, is only a 10 minute drive away. Moncarapacho is the perfect countryside retreat for those looking for a more peaceful pace of life.

FUZETA

Fuzeta was still an unknown village for many up to about 10 years ago, but has since become a popular destination for many Northern Europeans, who wish to wake up and smell the sea. Fuzeta adjoins the ocean, but compared to many of the other coastal towns, benefits not only from a stunning island (the Ilha da Fuzeta) but also a wider beach strip that invites to go for walks along the waterfront in wintertime without having to cross over to the islands.

Fuzeta has a great fish market, and a vibrant little town centre with bars that attract residents, tourists, surfers and water sport lovers alike. The fish restaurants offer good quality Portuguese food at fantastic prices and there is a local second hand market that is held once a month. The town has a train station whilst both Tavira and Faro are just a 15 minute drive away.
