Bakar is a town and port in Croatia. Located in the Bay of Bakar, it is part of the Primorje-Gorski Kotar

County. It lies on the northern coast of the Adriatic Sea and covers an area of 12,560 ha and nine settlements.

Bakar is located on a hill in the northwestern part of the bay of the same name and is surrounded by hills reaching up to 300 m above sea level. The entire area is rich in sources of drinking water, and is covered with deciduous trees and low vegetation.

The historic core (declared a cultural monument in 1968) is divided into two parts: the older, upper, so-called "City" in which a settlement surrounded by city walls has developed, and the lower part consisting of the "Zagrad" and "Primorje" areas. The climate is Mediterranean, so the architecture corresponds to the Mediterranean type of construction with many winding, narrow, steep and stepped streets and small squares.

The Adriatic Highway (M2, E65) passes immediately above the city, and to the northwest, about 15 km away, lies the city of Rijeka.

A good opportunity for investors who are engaged in the construction of residential buildings / apartments / apartments, but also for those who would like to build a rental / vacation house with a swimming pool or a family house / villa in a quiet and peaceful environment.
