Pedrouços is a Portuguese locality in the municipality of Maia, within the district of Porto. It covers an area of 2.25 km² and has 11,564 inhabitants (2021 census).

Industry and commerce have been the main drivers of development in Pedrouços in recent decades, as it is part of a municipality where these sectors play a key role in economic growth.

It is bordered:

to the north by Águas Santas (same municipality)
to the west by São Mamede de Infesta and Senhora da Hora (municipality of Matosinhos)
to the east by Rio Tinto (municipality of Gondomar)
to the south by Paranhos (municipality of Porto)

This development is located approximately 15 minutes from cities such as Maia, Vila Nova de Gaia, and Porto.

A project with unique, high-quality spaces and refined design, set in an area where nature complements the construction.
