Living in Torrevieja: Mediterranean Climate, Nature and Quality of Life

Torrevieja is a vibrant coastal city in the south of Alicante, known for its exceptional Mediterranean climate and for being home to the Lagunas de La Mata y Torrevieja Natural Park, one of the most important wetlands in the Valencian Community and one of the main salt-producing areas in Europe. The city enjoys mild temperatures throughout the year and an outstanding number of sunny days, making it a perfect destination for living, investing or enjoying long holidays.

Beaches, Coastline and Mediterranean Lifestyle

With 14 km of coastline, Torrevieja offers an impressive variety of beaches and coves: from La Mata Beach to Punta Prima, passing through Los Locos, Playa del Cura, Los Náufragos and the picturesque Cala Ferrís. The city perfectly blends maritime tradition with modern amenities: marinas, promenades, pedestrian streets, restaurants, cafés, markets and cultural attractions that enrich daily life without ever losing sight of the sea.
