Description:

Summary

Impressive large detached house, formerly a school, converted into residential accommodation in the early 1950s. It is situated in North Charente, 5 minutes from Sauzé Vaussais and 10 minutes from Ruffec, a lively town with its wide range of shops, supermarkets and activities, including a twice weekly market. At the entrance to a small village, it has immediate access to a school, two popular restaurants and a post office.

Entering the house via an elegant front door, you will find a smart entrance hall, off which is an office (13.5m²), a long room serving as dining room and 'snug' for everyday living (33m²) with an open fireplace. This, in turn, leads to a large fully fitted kitchen (32.5m²) with a wide range of cupboards and drawers, incorporating two fitted ovens and a fitted microwave and a large island with a 5 ring induction hob. From the kitchen there is access to a boot room/ second entrance and on to a utility room/boiler room, with a door to the rear garden.

At the other side of the hallway there is a useful downstairs shower room and a magnificent large living room of 52.8m² which has a large fireplace with a powerful wood burning stove and french windows on to the garden.

An impressive staircase, also off the hallway, leads to a landing and four large bedrooms. The largest, some 20.5m², incorporates an en suite shower room. The other bedrooms are approximately 16, 12.2 and 14m², and the last of these is currently serving as a dressing room with a sofa bed for occasional guests. There is also a family bathroom, with shower, and a separate toilet.

In addition attached to the house, with access from the large living room as well as from outside is a further space of more than 140m², on two levels, incorporating a workshop, a barn and, upstairs, a large music/games room which could easily be converted into additional bedrooms or an independent apartment.

The house is double glazed throughout, with internal walls and loft recently insulated. A recent oil-fired boiler provides underfloor heating to the ground floor and radiator heating upstairs.

Outside, there is undercover parking for 3 cars and additional space for at least 6 more vehicles if required. In front of the house is a formal walled garden with a fishpond, a rose garden, a small orchard, flower beds and ornamental trees, including two avenues of lime trees which provide delightful shade for tables and chairs for entertaining. There is also a Magiline heated swimming pool, with an arch cover which enables swimming in cooler weather. The pool has a changing room and a covered terrace to enjoy relaxed evenings in the Charente sunshine.

To the rear of the house is an enclosed field with more ornamental trees, a large wildlife pond, a vegetable garden with a large polytunnel
