Description:

For sale is a fully renovated apartment building in a highly sought-after central location in Alicante. The property comprises a total of 8 residential units, of which 7 are currently rented under long-term residential lease agreements. This allows the new owner to benefit from immediate rental income and a stable occupancy rate from day one.

Each apartment features a practical layout consisting of a living room, kitchen, 2 bedrooms, and 1 bathroom. The building has been extensively modernized, including all plumbing, electrical, and drainage systems, and is presented in a well-maintained condition.

Particularly attractive is the property's future potential. The currently vacant apartment can be rented out immediately or used according to the buyer's needs. In addition, there is long-term potential to increase rental income, as some existing rents remain below current market levels. Thanks to its prime location, the strong demand for housing in Alicante, and the building's excellent rental structure, this property represents an attractive long-term investment with further value appreciation potential.
