ABOUT THE AREA

Mambusao, officially the Municipality of Mambusao, is a 3rd class municipality in the province of Capiz, Philippines. According to the 2020 census, it has a population of 40,690 people. It is 36 kilometres from Roxas City.

Capiz is a province in the Western Visayas region that is home to Roxas City, also known as the Seafood Capital of the Philippines. Aside from the mouthwatering seafood dishes, Capiz also boasts of enchanting caves, historical landmarks, and beaches that will fulfill your wanderlust. If you're looking to feast on the freshest seafood and a fun adventure in the Philippines, then you should add Capiz to your travel bucket list.

Baybay Beach should be top on your Capiz travel list if you want to find out why Roxas is dubbed as the Seafood Capital. Here you can find restaurants and stalls offering a variety of the freshest catch and choose which ones you want to eat and how you want them to be cooked. You'll never go wrong with grilled or sinigang (cooked in sour soup stew). Head to Palina Greenbelt Eco Park for a serene river cruise on a bamboo floating cottage where locals will serenade you. Don't miss out on exploring the caves in Capiz such as Quipot Cave, Pilar Cave, Balisong Cave, and many more. Visit historical spots in Capiz like the ancestral house of the 5th president of Philippines, Manuel Roxas. Capiz Provincial Capitol also prides itself as a head-turner because of its neoclassical structural design. If you wish to see the biggest Catholic church bell in Asia, visit the Santa Monica Church (Pan-Ay Church). The beautiful exterior of this baroque church and an equally astonishing interior built from coral stones is National Historical Landmark. Before leaving, don't forget to buy locally-crafted souvenirs made with the province's Capiz shells.
