Torri del Benaco is a picturesque little town on the eastern shore of Lake Garda in the Italian region of Veneto. It is located between Garda and Malcesine and belongs to the province of Verona. With its charming alleyways, historic buildings and idyllic lakeside promenade, the town attracts numerous visitors every year.

Places of interest

One of the most famous attractions is the Scaligero Castle (Castello Scaligero), which was built in the 14th century by the noble della Scala family. Today it houses a museum dedicated to the history of the region, fishing and olive oil production. The greenhouse for citrus plants within the castle walls is particularly impressive.

The parish church of San Marco with its baroque frescoes and the small church of the Holy Trinity with its medieval frescoes are also worth a visit.

A highlight for nature lovers is Punta San Vigilio, a picturesque headland south of Torri del Benaco. There is a beautiful bay with crystal-clear water and the famous Villa Guarienti from the 16th century.

Leisure & activities

Torri del Benaco is an ideal starting point for hikes and bike tours in the surrounding mountains of the Monte Baldo massif. Water sports such as sailing, windsurfing and kayaking are also very popular here. There is also a car ferry to Toscolano-Maderno on the western shore of Lake Garda, which makes it easier to explore the other side of the lake.

Culinary delights

The local cuisine is characterized by fresh fish from Lake Garda, homemade pasta and the region's famous olive oil. The traditional trattorias along the lakeside promenade are particularly recommended, where you can enjoy the sunset over the lake with a glass of Bardolino wine.

Conclusion

Torri del Benaco is an enchanting place that is ideal for a relaxing vacation on Lake Garda with its mixture of history, nature and Mediterranean flair. Whether culture, sport or simply relaxation - everyone will find their personal highlight here.
