The main house ground-floor also includes a dedicated games room with table football, a dining room, an ironing/linen storage room, a cloakroom with shower, and a gym with multi-gym, cross-trainer, and running machine.

A stylish oak staircase leads to the first floor where you will find:

- * 5 x B&B rooms / chambres d'hotes: 4 rooms with double beds, 1 with twin beds, each room with a private shower room with basin and WC.

- * 2-bedroom apartment: One double bedroom, one twin bedded room, lounge with a king-size sofa-bed and dining area, fully equipped kitchen, large, fully-tiled shower room with double basins and WC. This unit is newly re-furnished throughout, with solid oak flooring to the lounge and bedroom.

The Business:

The current owners have lived here since 2012 and in that time have established a thriving business with an excellent reputation: 5* on TripAdvisor (#1 in the village) and 9.6 on Booking.com. They offer a specialised service catering to large groups of 3-generation families, groups of friends or sports/mountaineering clubs. The accommodation is extremely flexible and can cater for groups of any size from individuals or couples up to 28+ people. In between large 'Exclusive Use' bookings, the gites are let as individual units combined with B&B / chambres d'hotes. Further financial information would be available to serious buyers.

Future Potential:

The current owners have chosen to run the property simply as a husband and wife team with only very occasional help for whole-house changeovers. There is proven demand throughout the year although currently it is only operated on a part-time basis. There is enormous potential for further expansion for anyone who wants to develop organised group holidays such as retreats, corporate team-building, and special interest breaks (painting, walking, boot-camps, yoga etc.). The property also has huge potential to tap into the extremely lucrative wedding market. This is a fantastic opportunity for someone looking for a complete lifestyle change in a beautiful part of the world.

ABOUT THE AREA

Sahorre is a tranquil, picturesque village nestled deep in the Conflent valley of the Pyrénées-Orientales department in the Occitanie region of Southern France. This charming location places it right at the heart of the Catalan Pyrenees Regional Nature Park, offering an idyllic escape characterized by breathtaking mountain scenery, lush forests, and a clean, invigorating climate. Sahorre's local identity is strongly influenced by its Catalan heritage, a cultural connection visible in the local dialect, architecture, and traditions, providing a distinct and authentic South-Western French experience. The village itself is small, characterized by stone-built homes and narrow, winding streets, preserving a sense of timeless tranquility that is highly valued by residents and visitors seeking a peaceful retreat away from the more tourist-trodden areas of the region.

The surrounding area of Sahorre is a paradise for nature lovers and history enthusiasts alike. It is situated in the shadow of the colossal Mount Canigou (Pic du Canigou), the sacred mountain of the Catalans, which dominates the local skyline and provides endless opportunities for hiking, mountain biking, and canyoning, particularly in the nearby Gorges like the Gorges de la Fou. Culturally, the region is rich in Romanesque art and history. Just a short drive away lies the magnificent Abbey of Saint-Martin du Canigou, a secluded eleventh-century monastery clinging to the mountainside, and the medieval fortified town of Villefranche-de-Conflent, a UNESCO World Heritage Site with Vauban fortifications. Sahorre itself is home to the historic Church of Saint-Étienne, reflecting the architectural heritage of the valley.

While offering a remote mountain feel, Sahorre maintains good connectivity through regional infrastructure. For those traveling by road, the village is conveniently located near the N116 road, which connects the Pyrenees to the coastal city of Perpignan. The local area also features notable attractions such as the famous Yellow Train (Train Jaune), a historic railway that climbs up to the high plateau of Cerdagne, offering spectacular views and providing a unique way to explore the upper reaches of the mountains and ski areas like Font-Romeu, which is approximately 45 minutes away. This blend of natural adventure, profound history, and sunny Mediterranean influence makes the Sahorre area highly desirable for both outdoor pursuits and cultural exploration throughout the year.

The primary gateway for air travel to the region is the Perpignan–Rivesaltes Airport (PGF), which is the nearest major airport, located approximately 45 minutes to an hour's drive away (around 60 kilometers). Perpignan Airport offers connections, including budget carriers, making access from the UK and other European countries straightforward. For those seeking broader flight options, a slightly longer drive will access other international airports. These include Girona–Costa Brava Airport (GRO) in Spain, which is about 1 hour and 45 minutes away, and Carcassonne Airport (CCF), located approximately 2 hours away. The road trip from these airports is scenic, passing through the beautiful landscapes of the Roussillon and Languedoc regions, adding to the sense of arrival in the peaceful Pyrenees foothills.
