In the 1960s THE place to venture for the affluent Portuguese of Lisbon and the North was Vilamoura

Realising this and the dream was the famous Cupertino De Miranda whose statue proudly welcomes visitors into what has become Europe's Largest Purpose built Resort.

Dredging low lying farmland in Quarteira which had been owned by an English family the area was rarely cultivated due its soil and proximity to the salt water

In 1972 The Vilamoura marina office was originally a boat moored off the shore this boat was purpose built in Florida and made to order for General Batista of Cuba.

Shortly before delivery a certain Fidel Castro decided that was not going to happen for the General who never set foot on the vessel.

Many years later a Portuguese seaman and businessman sailed it across the Atlantic.

From such auspicious starts, Vilamoura now enjoys International status as one of THE resorts of the world

Famous for its huge 1000 Berth Marina and the surrounding bars and restaurants the resort is a sporting persons idea of Utopian paradise.
