Описание:

A character property in the heart of Hennebont, offering approximately 220 sqm of living space with strong potential for further development.

Original wooden floors, high ceilings and generous volumes provide a solid base to create a home tailored to your needs, without major structural changes.

The main living areas benefit from natural light, offering a comfortable setting for both everyday living and entertaining.

Additional rooms allow flexible use, whether as a home office, remote working space or independent activity.

Upstairs, the current layout suits family living or can be adapted to a larger-scale project.

Outside, a private garden — rare in the town centre — extends the living space in a quiet environment.

Light refurbishment work will allow you to personalise the property while preserving its character and structure.

A full property file (technical documents, diagnostics and additional information) can be provided after an initial discussion, ensuring a clear understanding before any visit.

Ideal as a family home or a character second residence.
