

A photograph showing the exterior of a modern building. The entrance features a large, dark-framed glass door that is slightly ajar, revealing a brightly lit interior space. To the left of the door is a concrete pillar with a small, square, white sign featuring a red circle and a diagonal line. To the right of the door is a large, dark blue or black vertical pillar. The building's facade is made of light-colored concrete. In the foreground, there is a paved area with a brick-like pattern. In the top right corner, there is a logo for 'FINCAS E.V.A.' in purple and white text.
