Guia is famous throughout the country for being home to chicken piri-piri, made even more famous around the world by the Nando food chain. If you're looking to try the original, and some say, the best chicken piri-piri, then it's a must-see guide while you're in the Algarve.

Guia is a little inland from the coast, although it is possible to see the sea from here, but this means you can enjoy the lush greens of the rural Algarve without having to leave the beaten track.

The land around Guia is really formidable for grape growing and if you are looking for things to do in Guia then why not stop by the Singer's Winery which is partly owned by Sir Cliff Richard who is known for making impromptu appearances at the Winery especially during August.

Guia is home to one of the most popular attractions in the Algarve the Zoomarine park, home to Zoomarine dolphins and a place where you have the opportunity to swim with dolphins in the Algarve. Also find yourself just a little further down the road the Fiesa sand sculpture park, another great choice for a family day out.

There are many things to do in Guia and thanks to the location on the EN125 road, it is easy to find anywhere in the Algarve.

The spectacular Zoomarine with dolphins, sea lions and birds are great for all ages and are fun enough to keep the attention of the little children, but away from the marine life there are also many other areas of Zoomarine to explore.
