Property Details

The condos in this development combine modern luxury, practical design, and a prime location on Jalisco Street in Madero Sur, a well-known neighborhood in Tijuana, also referred to as 'La Cacho'—one of the city's most desirable and fastest-growing areas in terms of property value.

There are seven different models available starting at US$400,000, all with private terraces, offering 1, 2, or 3 bedrooms and options for 1 to 3 parking spaces. Penthouses allow for customization in case you want a studio or more. The development is scheduled for completion in December 2027.

Located in one of the fastest-growing areas of Tijuana, the development offers both a stunning place to live and a strong investment. Appreciation in the zone has averaged well above the national average.

With an estimated 12% annual appreciation, a property valued at $500,000 could reach approximately $881,170 after 5 years. That's a gain of $381,170 just in property value alone.

Factoring in annual rental income starting at $37,500, increasing at a conservative 5% per year, the total rental earnings over 5 years could reach $217,571, of which $174,057 would be net after taxes (estimated at 20%) and HOA fees.

Capital Gain: $381,170

Net Rental Income: $174,057

Total Capitalization: $555,228

Annual IRR: 22.21%

Total 5-Year IRR: 111.05%

This projection is based on stable appreciation and rental growth rates. Market performance could further enhance returns over time.

The neighborhood is filled with high-quality lifestyle perks. The building is only 13 minutes from the San Ysidro border crossing and less than 7 minutes away from restaurants, bakeries, cafes, car washes, salons, boutiques, hospitals, vet clinics, schools, gyms, taco stands, craft breweries, and dental offices—all in a peaceful setting ideal for walking or taking your pet out with complete peace of mind.

Inside, the finishes stand out with high-end black quartz countertops, moisture-resistant treated wood cabinetry, quartz bathroom walls and vanities, and tempered glass shower enclosures. Every unit, including the bathrooms, features sound insulation for added privacy and comfort. The windows are dual-pane vacuum-insulated glass with UV protection, helping to keep interiors cool and protected from the sun.

The building also offers high security standards, including keycard access for residents to speed up entry and 24/7 front desk monitoring. Private rentals are allowed, but must go through a screening process to ensure a high-quality residential environment.

Amenities include a swimming pool with views of the golf club (Club Campestre), partially covered and equipped with a retractable transparent wall for protection from wind or rain. Other features include a jacuzzi, sauna, steam room, fully equipped gym with panoramic views of the golf course and La Cacho area, health bar, rooftop garden, BBQ grills, entertainment lounge with massage chairs, a kids' playroom, and sunbathing decks.

The design is timeless, both inside and out, with durable materials and finishes that maintain their aesthetic for years to come. The building has high ceilings that give a sense of space, something rare in most apartment developments in the city.

Buyers can choose from three flexible payment options: full cash (10% off the sale price), interest-free financing during construction (5% off with 30% down), or a bank mortgage starting from 10% down (5% off the sale price with 30% down).

ABOUT THE AREA

Tijuana, often referred to as the 'Gateway to Mexico,' is a dynamic and rapidly growing city located in the northwestern part of the country, directly on the border with San Diego, California, in the United States. This unique geographical position has profoundly shaped its identity, creating a vibrant cultural and economic melting pot. Known for its bustling Avenida Revolución, diverse culinary scene, and energetic nightlife, Tijuana draws millions of visitors annually, seeking everything from authentic Mexican experiences to world-class medical tourism.

Beyond its well-known tourist attractions, Tijuana has evolved into a significant economic powerhouse. It is a major manufacturing hub, particularly in the maquiladora industry, producing goods for export, notably electronics, automotive parts, and medical devices. The city's proximity to the U.S. and its skilled workforce have attracted numerous multinational corporations, contributing to its rapid urban and industrial development. This strong economic base, coupled with a burgeoning tech startup scene, marks Tijuana as a crucial component of the broader binational San Diego-Tijuana metropolitan area.

Geographically, Tijuana sits in a valley along the Tijuana River, characterized by rugged and hilly terrain, though its downtown areas in the valley can be prone to flooding during heavy rains. The city enjoys a Mediterranean climate, with mild, wet winters and warm, dry summers, influenced by its proximity to the Pacific Ocean. This unique landscape offers a striking contrast between urban development and natural beauty, including the coastal areas of Playas de Tijuana, which feature a remodeled boardwalk and murals.

For travelers, Tijuana is exceptionally well-connected by air. The primary airport is General Abelardo L. Rodríguez International Airport (TIJ), located just 5 kilometers (3.1 miles) northeast of downtown Tijuana. This airport serves a vast network of domestic destinations across Mexico and is a hub for popular airlines. Uniquely, TIJ features the Cross Border Xpress (CBX) terminal, a pedestrian bridge that allows passengers with a valid boarding pass to directly cross the U.S.-Mexico border, connecting the airport to a terminal in San Diego, California. Additionally, for those flying into the U.S. side, San Diego International Airport (SAN) is a convenient option, located approximately 31 kilometers (19 miles) north of Tijuana, with easy ground transportation across the border.
