In a residential neighbourhood with open views, garden and garage for sale in Chiusi, Siena. With open views of the Etruscan town of Chiusi, we offer a terraced house, in a prime location, measuring approximately 204 square metres (2195 sq ft), free on three sides, with bright and well-distributed interiors, opening onto a garden and a private courtyard of 390 square metres. On the ground floor, there is a spacious garage, a cellar, a woodshed, a laundry room and a convenient storage room, as well as a technical room with a boiler room and a separately accessible under-stairs storage area. Going up to the main floor, a covered loggia leads to the living area, where a living room with a fireplace opens onto a balcony overlooking the garden. The cosy and functional kitchen and dining room form a convivial environment, complemented by three double bedrooms, two with private balconies, two bathrooms and a closet. The interiors, with parquet flooring, are in good general condition, while offering the opportunity for a stylistic update to adapt them to contemporary tastes. The private, well-kept and secluded garden frames the house, ideal for al fresco dining or relax. The property has natural gas heating with a wood-burning fireplace and a private well. The location is particularly convenient: amenities are within walking distance, while high-speed train and motorway connections make it easy to get around. Ideal for those who want a primary residence or second home in the heart of authentic Tuscany, in a peaceful setting but close to all amenities.
